Hong Kong : Cathay Pacific welcomes customers to The Bridge, its lounge at Hong Kong International Airport (HKIA) that officially re-opened its doors to guests recently.

Occupying a prime intersection at the airline's home hub, The Bridge has been redesigned with a host of new, unique features as well as familiar favorites to provide customers with an elevated experience before their flights.

Located conveniently near Departure Gate 35 at HKIA's Terminal 1, the newly redesigned The Bridge lounge continues Cathay Pacific's dedication to human-centric design and placing its customers' needs and wishes at the very heart of the design process.

The Bridge, along with carefully selected plants, furniture pieces, and original artworks from the airline's award-winning "Gallery in the Skies" concept, come together to foster a residential, cohesive and harmonious environment.

To provide an innovative and streamlined check-in process, The Bridge will soon be the first Cathay Pacific lounge that adopts a biometric check-in system, complemented by a traditional check-in desk.

The Bridge is divided into the left and right-hand sides, with the left offering Chinese favorites and delicacies, and the right focused on international culinary delights.

In addition, this side of The Bridge features The Nook, a brand-new concept for Cathay Pacific's lounges that complements and extends the culinary offerings of the Noodle Bar, while also expanding the dining seating.
