

Flynas partners with Al-Hilal as official airline for four seasons

- A Monitor Report

Date: 16 September, 2024

Jeddah : Flynas, one of the leading low-cost airlines in the Middle East, announces a sponsorship agreement with Al-Hilal Al-Saudi Club Company. This new partnership designates Flynas as the official air carrier for Al-Hilal for four years, extending through the 2027-2028 sports season.

The agreement was signed by Flynas CEO Bander Almohanna and Al-Hilal Al-Saudi Club Company Chairman Fahad bin Saad bin Nafel. Flynas Chairman Ayed Al Jeaid and other high officials from both organisations were also present on the occasion.

Speaking on the occasion, Bander Almohanna emphasised that flynas' entry into the sports sector underscores the airline's commitment to supporting the growth of the sports industry and its role in boosting tourism.

He noted that this partnership will offer extensive services and products tailored to travellers' needs and aligns with Flynas' global growth strategy.

Almohanna highlighted that Al-Hilal Club's success both locally and globally fits well with Flynas' mission to connect the world to Saudi Arabia, a growing hub for international sports events.

Addressing the event, Fahad bin Saad bin Nafel praised the exclusive partnership, calling it one of Al-Hilal's most significant recent deals.
