Doha : Qatar Airways on August 9 announces the renewal of its long-standing partnership with Al Sadd Sports Club, one of Qatar's most celebrated football teams.

The airline has supported Al Sadd SC since 2018 and plays an active role in enriching the sporting landscape by engaging with fans across Qatar and the Qatar Stars League, said a release.

On the occasion, Qatar Airways Group Chief Executive Officer Engr Badr Mohammed Al-Meer said, "We are delighted to renew our partnership with Al Sadd Sports Club, a team that holds a special place in the hearts of many in Qatar. Our renewed collaboration reflects our shared commitment to excellence, community, and nurturing the future generation of talent. Together, we continue to support Qatar's growing legacy as global sports hub."

Al Sadd Sports Club Chief Executive Officer Turki Al-Ali said, "We express our great happiness in renewing the partnership with Qatar Airways. We take pride in the continuation of this partnership and look forward to achieving more successes and accomplishments together in the coming period."

The partnership marks another milestone in Qatar Airways' portfolio of high-profile global sports partnerships, including the likes of FIFA, UEFA Champions League and National Team Competitions, Formula 1, Paris-Saint Germain (PSG), FC Internazionale Milano, AFC, Tennis legend Novak Djokovic, The Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB), MotoGP, the IRONMAN Triathlon Series, The Australian Wallabies, The United Rugby Championship (URC), French rugby team Section Paloise, The Brooklyn Nets NBA team, and multiple other disciplines including Australian football, equestrian, motor racing, padel, squash, and tennis.
