

Qatar Airways to resume flights to 6th Pakistani destination Multan

A Monitor Report

Date: 16 February, 2022

Doha : Qatar Airways scheduled flights to Multan International Airport, Pakistan, will resume on February 22, with a three weekly service and taking it to four weekly, effective March 27, after the airline temporarily suspended flying to Multan in March 2020 due to the Covid-19 pandemic. The route will be operated by Airbus A320 offering seats in Business Class and Economy Class.

With the addition of three weekly flights to Multan, passengers can now enjoy seamless connectivity to over 140 destinations across the airline's extensive global network via the best airport in the world, Hamad International Airport, including popular destinations across the Middle East, Europe and North America.

The national carrier of the State of Qatar remains committed to Pakistan with the resumption of Multan, further bolstering global connectivity. Following the resumption, the airline will operate 66 weekly flights to and from six airports in Pakistan, serving more cities in Pakistan than any other full service global airline.

Qatar Airways flight QR616, will depart from Hamad International Airport at 20:45, arriving at 02:00 the next day into Multan International Airport on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

The return flight of Qatar Airways QR617, will depart from Multan International Airport at 03:25, and arrive into Hamad International Airport at 05:15 on Wednesday, Friday and Sunday (all times are local).

The new service will offer one stop connectivity to Pakistani communities in the Middle East, Europe and North America.

A multiple award-winning airline, Qatar Airways was announced as the 'Airline of the Year' at the 2021 World Airline Awards, managed by the international air transport rating organisation, Skytrax, for an unprecedented sixth time.
