Dhaka: The Cathay Group on December 23 announced that Patrick Healy will step down as Chair of the Board on May 13, 2026 and retire from the Swire Group on May 31, 2026, following a distinguished career spanning more than three decades. The Board of Directors has appointed Guy Bradley, JP, as the new Chair of the Cathay Group, effective May 13, 2026.

Bradley, also the Chairman of Swire Pacific Limited and a Director of Cathay Pacific Airways Limited, expressed appreciation for Healy's leadership: "Pat has demonstrated unwavering commitment and leadership throughout his six years as Chair, especially during the pandemic. During his tenure, Cathay Pacific has reinforced its reputation as one of the world's best airlines, and the Cathay Group has returned to pre-pandemic passenger flight capacity while expanding its network to more than 100 destinations.

“As Chair of the Cathay Group, my focus will be on working closely with the leadership team on enhancing the Cathay Group’s overall performance, as well as continuing to support Hong Kong, our home city, and strengthening its status as a leading international aviation hub.”

Bradley brings extensive global leadership experience to the role. Since joining the Swire Group in 1987, he has held senior positions across Hong Kong SAR, the Chinese Mainland, Japan, the Middle East, United States, and other key markets. He currently serves — and will continue to serve — as Chairman of Swire Pacific Limited, John Swire and Sons (HK) Limited, Swire Properties Limited, and Hong Kong Aircraft Engineering Company Limited.
