Dhaka: Radisson Blu Dhaka Water Garden has become the country's only hotel to secure the Safehotels Executive Level Certification for seven consecutive years, as the property announced that it secured the certification for 2025-2026 recently, according to a press release.

Safehotels Alliance, the world's leading independent organization for hotel safety certification, audits properties against The Global Hotel Security Standard, a rigorous program assessing over 210 critical safety and security elements.

Achieving the Executive Level — the highest tier — demonstrates Radisson Blu Dhaka's commitment to guest safety, employee well-being, and stakeholder confidence, added the release.

“This certification is more than a badge — it’s a promise,” said Duco E de Vries, Cluster General Manager of Radisson Blu Dhaka Water Garden.

The credit also goes to Major Ahmed Sayed Raza (retd), Director Safety and Security, along with the hotel team, claimed the release.

It may be mentioned here, Radisson Blu Dhaka Water Garden is equipped with state-of-the-art fire safety systems, including advanced detection and suppression technologies that ensure rapid response in the event of an emergency. In addition, the hotel conducts regular emergency preparedness drills and training sessions for all staff members, ensuring that every team member is fully equipped to handle any situation swiftly and effectively.

Furthermore, enhanced sanitation protocols have been integrated into daily operations, aligning with globally recognized standards to safeguarding guests and employees alike. These measures include rigorous cleaning procedures, air quality monitoring, and preventive health practices that go above and beyond industry norms.
