

BAC celebrates 4th anniversary, holds annual general meeting in Dhaka

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 10 March, 2026

Dhaka: Bangladesh Aviation Community (BAC) organized a festive evening to celebrate the platform's 4th anniversary and hold its annual general meeting of 2026 on Saturday, March 7, at a restaurant in Uttara of the capital. The event later followed into an Iftar gathering, marking the spirit of the holy month of Ramadan.

The occasion brought together industry leaders and key stakeholders from the country's aviation sector, alongside airport professionals, airline representatives, and other distinguished members of the aviation community.

Distinguished guests, in their speeches, highlighted BAC's vision and objectives for establishing the platform on February 2, 2022. They said the platform aims to bring together professionals of the aviation industry in Bangladesh, particularly those engaged at airports, and further strengthen service quality, safety, professionalism, and mutual cooperation.

In addition to its professional activities, the organization has also been actively contributing to aviation education, social development, and humanitarian initiatives.

The speakers further noted that within just four years of its establishment, BAC has grown from a small initiative into a dynamic and strong aviation community.

Through mutual cooperation, exchange of experiences, and professional networking, the organization continues to work towards strengthening and further organizing the aviation industry in Bangladesh.

The event then progressed into an Iftar gathering, organized in the spirit of the holy month of Ramadan, creating a warm and fraternal environment among the participants. Members present reaffirmed their commitment to promoting the values of unity, gratitude, and compassion within the aviation community.

During the event, special recognition was given to the contributions of BAC members, supporters, and well-wishers, and sincere appreciation was expressed for their continued cooperation and encouragement.

The speakers expressed optimism that, through the collective efforts of all stakeholders, BAC will continue to play an even more significant role in the future for the advancement of the aviation community and the greater good of society.

V