

Emirates' 5th daily flight to Cairo from coming February

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 11 November, 2025

Dubai: From 1st February 2026, Emirates additional daily flight will complement the current schedule of four daily flights in meeting strong leisure and corporate travel demand in and out of Egypt. Once live with the fifth daily service, Cairo will also become the most served city in the airline's African network. Operated with a Boeing 777, the flight schedule is optimised for seamless connections with key destinations in Asia including Hong Kong, Malaysia, Indonesia, Thailand and many more.

Before launching 5th daily frequency, Emirates is deploying an additional six weekly frequencies on the Dubai-Cairo route from 1st December 2025 to cater to the increased demand during peak winter season.

As one of the earliest destinations on Emirates' global network, Egypt has long been a priority market for the airline. Cairo already boasts the highest deployment of the iconic Emirates A380s in the Middle East and North Africa, outside of Dubai.

Emirates has firmly established itself as a long-term partner of Egypt's aviation, tourism and trade, since the inaugural flight in 1986. Since then, the airline has scaled operations, increased frequencies and served over 10 million passengers to and from the market.
