Emirates' strategic partnerships like interline agreements and codeshares help to expand its global footprint, enabling the airline's customers to reach places far beyond its own network.

Since it signed its first interline agreement, Emirates' global partner network has grown exponentially across Europe, North America, Asia, Australia, Africa and the Middle East.

Today, the airline has 29 codeshare, 117 interline and 11 intermodal rail partners across the transport ecosystem in over 100 countries, delivering an array of travel choices through flexible schedules for travellers, and providing seamless connectivity, relevance and a network reach that extends to over 5,250 additional sectors covering over 800 cities.

Emirates' customers can book connecting flights with the airline's partners and enjoy the benefits of seamless single ticket itineraries, baggage transfers, frequent flyer benefits, lounge access, alongside other perks to ensure a smooth travel experience.

Emirates now operates twenty one weekly flights between Dhaka and Dubai.
