

Emirates restarts flights to London Stansted

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 01 August, 2022

Dubai: Emirates has resumed passenger services to London Stansted, serving its third London gateway with a daily flight. With the return of services to Stansted, the airline has ramped up its London operations to now offer customers nine daily flights to London, including six daily flights to Heathrow and a double daily flight to Gatwick.

London Stansted will be served by Emirates' wide-body Boeing 777-300ER aircraft fitted with its renowned 'Game Changer' First Class product.

The daily service will offer customers in East and Southeast UK more travel options, flexibility, and convenience when travelling with Emirates to more than 130 destinations, via Dubai.

Emirates currently serve seven gateways in the UK. By October 2022, the airline will be serving the country with 110 weekly flights, including: six times daily to London Heathrow; daily service to London Stansted; double daily A380 service to Gatwick; three times daily to Manchester, including a double daily A380 service (starting 1st October 2022); double daily service to Birmingham; five weekly flights to Newcastle; and a daily service to Glasgow.

The airline currently operates 21 weekly flight to and from Dhaka and is the only airline to offer First Class products.
