

Emirates to add additional 5 weekly flights to London Heathrow

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 16 August, 2023

Dubai: Emirates airline has announced it will operate an additional five-a-week service to London Heathrow starting from 31 October 2023 until 30 March 2024. This temporary service will meet market demand during the busy winter season and offer customers more travel choices.

Emirates currently serve London Heathrow with six daily A380 flights. The additional flight will operate on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays and will be served by Emirates' wide-body Boeing 777-300ER aircraft, fitted in a three-class configuration split between First, Business and Economy classes.

The airline currently serves the UK with 126 weekly flights including: six times daily A380 service to London Heathrow; three times daily A380 service to Gatwick; twice daily service to Stansted; three times daily A380 service to Manchester; double daily service to Birmingham (including a daily A380 service); daily service to Newcastle; and a daily A380 service to Glasgow.

Read More: Over 160,000 people traveled in Emirates Premium Economy Class last year

Emirates now serves Dhaka with 21 weekly flights and via Dubai offers convenient connections to nearly 140 destination across six continents.

-N