Dubai: Emirates will expand the list of cities served by its refurbished Boeing 777 to Seoul, South Korea starting 14 April and London Stansted in the UK from 7 May.

Emirates' four-class Boeing 777 will operate to Seoul three times a week on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. London Stansted joins London Heathrow and Edinburgh as the third UK destination to showcase the airline's latest generation products and elegantly refreshed cabin interiors. In addition to London Stansted, Emirates' network of European destinations served by the four-class Boeing 777 includes Brussels, Geneva, Zurich, Vienna, and Athens.

The retrofitted Emirates Boeing 777 aircraft features a four-class configuration, including Emirates' signature Premium Economy cabins, which combine accessible luxury with comfort.

The aircraft also boasts the new Emirates 777 Business Class, with seats arranged in a 1-2-1 configuration for maximum privacy ensuring aisle access for every passenger, fully flat beds, and personal mini-bars. On some aircraft, First Class passengers can experience the exclusive suites, offering unparalleled luxury, opulent comfort and signature design touches.

Customers across all cabins will enjoy upgraded interiors with new design elements, including modern colour palettes, specially designed Ghaf Tree motifs, and wood finishes throughout.
