Date: 07 September, 2024

Abu Dhabi: UAE's national carrier Etihad Airways announced Friday (Sep 6) it is continuing its global expansion with the launch of two new routes — Warsaw in Poland and Prague in Czechia. This marks the first time the airline has flown directly to these countries.

Starting June 2, 2025, the airline said it would launch four weekly flights to both Warsaw and Prague. It said the milestone expansion is part of the airline's ongoing efforts to diversify its European network.

"These routes not only enrich our network but also offer a great opportunity to strengthen ties with these countries and attract more visitors to Abu Dhabi. We see this as a key part of our growth strategy, helping to drive tourism and support the UAE's vision for the future," stated Antonoaldo Neves, CEO of Etihad Airways.

The airline will operate these routes using the modern Boeing 787

Dreamliner, ensuring the highest level of comfort with 28 business class and 262 economy class seats available on every flight.

Both Poland and Czechia have been growing sources of visitors to the UAE. Therefore, the introduction of direct flights from Warsaw and Prague will enhance travel options, offering travelers from these regions a new and convenient way to experience Abu Dhabi's attractions.

As a key global aviation hub, Abu Dhabi provides seamless connectivity to Etihad's extensive network, with the new flights connecting seamlessly to key destinations across the Middle East, Asia, the Indian Subcontinent, and Australia. Guests can also easily access major cities including Sydney, Mumbai, Bangkok, and Riyadh.
