

Former Biman CFO to be Alliance Air CEO from July end

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 15 July, 2021

Dhaka: The Indian government has appointed former Biman Bangladesh CFO Vineet Sood as Alliance Air (AA) CEO. Sood will take over the duty from July 31, 2021, for a period of three years.

Alliance Air, the regional turboprop wing of Air India, will remain the only government-owned fixed arm airline in India once AI and AI Express are privatized, a process expected to be completed this fiscal.

Sood will take over from Harpreet A De Singh, AI's ED and Chief of Flight Safety before being appointed as CEO of AA last October.

According to reports, Sood did B Com (Hons) from Delhi's Shri Ram College of Commerce and went on to become a CA.

He joined Nigerian carrier Dana Airlines in Lagos as Head of Finance and Accounts in September 2008. Afterward, he rose to the position of CFO there till May 2015. Months later, Sood joined Biman Bangladesh as CFO.

Related News:

- India to continue the ban on international flights till March 31
- British Airways flies Covid-19 aid to India
- Philippines bars travelers from Bangladesh as Indian Covid variant found