Dhaka: Hellmann Worldwide Logistics has partnered with courier firm SkyNet Worldwide Express to launch a new cross-border e-commerce service aimed at EU and UK shippers, with plans for global expansion.

The end-to-end B2C solution includes warehousing, fulfilment, delivery, and returns, and is positioned between traditional post and express services—offering faster transit at lower cost.

The firms said integrated systems allow full tracking and API connectivity, with Hellmann providing freight and warehousing and SkyNet managing global delivery.

"Fast cross-border deliveries are key for global growth," said Hellmann COO Martin Habisreiter.

Tommy Erasmus, group chief executive of SkyNet Worldwide Express, added: "With this partnership, we are combining Hellmann's infrastructure and market reach with SkyNet's e-commerce expertise to create a complete cross-border solution.
