

IndiGo back on track after system glitch

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 07 October, 2024

New Delhi: IndiGo's operations returned to normal on Sunday (Oct 7), following a system glitch the previous day that caused significant delays and long wait times for passengers at airports.

In a post on social media, the airline confirmed that its airport operations have returned to normal, ensuring minimal disruption to passengers. The outage on Saturday (Oct 6) lasted for many hours, and systems were back to normal late in the night.

Airport services for IndiGo passengers were impacted, and some flights were delayed due to the outage.

The airline operates more than 2,000 flights daily.
