Dhaka: Kuwaiti low-cost carrier Jazeera Airways announced the appointment of three senior executives to its leadership team through an official company release on May 6. The LCC marked the development as a significant step in its ongoing expansion and strategic development.

Capt. Ayman Alshammari has been promoted to Chief Operating Officer (CEO), Ginny Sethi to Chief People Officer (CPO), and Paul Carroll has joined the airline as Chief Commercial Officer (CCO).

The airline congratulated Capt. Ayman and Ginny on their well-earned promotions and extended a warm welcome to Paul as he becomes part of the Jazeera family. Together, the trio brings deep experience across operations, human resources, and commercial strategy.

According to the release, these leadership changes are part of Jazeera Airways' broader efforts to strengthen its focus on operational excellence, customer experience, and digital innovation. As the airline continues to expand its fleet and route network, it is also set to create thousands of new jobs across the region.

Jazeera Airways emphasized that this refreshed leadership team is well-positioned to guide the company through the next chapter in shaping the future of low-cost air travel in the Middle East.
