

Shangri-La the Shard launches valentines packages

- A Monitor Desk Report

Date: 31 January, 2022

Shangri-La the Shard is conjuring up new and unforgettable ways to show appreciation to all the loves in your life, whether it's a partner, parent or friend.

Ensuring no one is missed by Cupid's arrow this year, the property has created an array of special experiences, with heart, to mark the month of love.

Pulling out all the stops for a luxurious getaway in the clouds, rooms and suites can be transformed with heart-shaped balloons, bouquets of flowers, hand-made chocolates, caviar and rosé champagne to sip against the backdrop of the capital's skyline - from sweeping daytime views to romantic sunsets and twinkling evening lights of the city below.

During the month of love, spend quality relaxation time at Western Europe's highest sky pool, gym and sauna, with unique views over landmarks like St.

Paul's Cathedral and the Houses of Parliament, topped off with a blissful Neal's Yard Remedies Valentine's couples' aromatherapy massage performed either in one of the hotel's serene treatment rooms, or in the comfort of your own room.

Priced from £745 per night, the Love is in the Air package includes a one-night stay in a luxurious room or suite, with breakfast for two at TĪNG, a bottle of chilled rosé champagne in your room, a bouquet of flowers and hand-made chocolates, as well as use of the sky gym, infinity sky pool and sauna.

Customise your stay with heart-shaped balloons and couples' massages by selecting from our Valentine's experience menu when booking.

Throughout February, foodies will also find special love-inspired culinary creations at Shangri-La The Shard's spectacular restaurants and bars.

With the option to pair each course with wines selected by the hotel's expert sommelier, and a signature Midnight Delight cocktail, there's no better way to enjoy your special moment.

The set menu available February 11-28, priced from £150 per person. To book, visit: ting-shangri-la.com
