Dhaka : Enjoy breathtaking 360° views of the iconic Palm Jumeirah, the Arabian Gulf, and beyond, from an outdoor observation terrace, located 240m high, at Dubai's one of the most popular landmarks-The View at The Palm.

The observation deck presents never seen before 360-degree panoramas of Palm Jumeirah alongside the sparkling waters of the Arabian Gulf and Dubai skyline in the distance.

The View at The Palm is located on level 52 of The Palm Tower, which also houses a café, a creative exhibition that showcases the development of the island, interactive aquarium-themed tunnels and a gift shop.

In 2022, the venue further elevated expectations for sky-high experiences with the opening of The Next Level.

At 250m above ground, the private, barrier-free viewing space has clinched the title as Palm Jumeirah's highest vantage point.

Travellers looking for more fun can now stay on at CouCou Dubai, the destination's own rooftop restaurant and lounge.

Tickets for The View at The Palm start from AED 100 for adults and AED 69 for children, with free admission for kids under the age of four.

For a high-end twist, visit the exclusive VIP lounge that spans a full 120sqm and features an outdoor terrace, with packages starting at AED 350 for adults and AED200 for children.

Tours inclusive of The Next Level start at AED 120 for children and range over AED 325 for a VIP treat.

There is even a fast-track option so guests can squeeze more sightseeing into their day.

Depending on which day guests choose to go, final entry to the site is either at 9pm or 11pm - an hour ahead of closing time.

Opened in April 2021, approximately 15 years after Palm Jumeirah opened, The View has direct access to Nakheel Mall, a popular shopping centre with a great range of restaurants and entertainment. Other nearby attractions include The Pointe, Club Vista Mare and the famous Atlantis, The Palm resort.

Guests can choose Arabian Adventures or any other agency in Dubai to facilitate the trip.

The tour starts with a rail-ride to the Palm Jumeirah. Then guests will go up to the top at 240m high open view observation deck and enjoy a memsmerising 360 degree view of the Palm and the Arabian Gulf and the Dubai skyline.

However, guests can make a stop at another observation deck just below the top where they can enjoy a drink while enjoying the amazing views around.
