

Flight Expert, Go Girls pair up for women-friendly travel

- A Monitor Report

Date: 16 March, 2025

Dhaka : Flight Expert, a leading online travel platform based in Bangladesh, and Go Girls, a women-centric travel agency, inked a Memorandum of Understanding in an effort to transform the landscape of women's travel through a signing ceremony held at the former's head office in the capital recently.

Flight Expert provides comprehensive solutions for flight bookings, visa processing, e-SIMs, and hotel reservations. On the other hand, Go Girls, founded by Sonia Refat, is devoted to creating safer, more convenient travel experiences for female explorers.

Under the agreement, by pooling their respective expertise, Flight Expert and Go Girls plan to address common challenges faced by women traveling solo or in groups. Their integrated services will streamline the entire journey, from securing visas and booking flights to arranging comfortable lodging and offering e-SIM connectivity.

Speaking on the occasion, Sonia Refat, Founder of Go Girl, expressed enthusiasm about the collaboration, highlighting shared values around trust, transparency, and women's empowerment.

Flight Expert CEO Salman Bin Rashid Shah Sayeem echoed the sentiment, emphasizing that travel should be a basic right for everyone, regardless of gender.

Through this alliance, both parties seek to eliminate barriers that often deter women from embracing travel.

The partnership aims to offer female travelers a reliable support system, ensuring each trip is both memorable and secure.

By joining forces, Flight Expert and Go Girls hope to set a new standard for women-friendly travel in Bangladesh and beyond, said a release.
