

World's tallest observation wheel set to open in Dubai next month

A Monitor Report

Date: 16 September, 2021

Dubai : Ain Dubai, the worlds largest and tallest observation wheel sited at the heart of lifestyle destination Blue waters in Dubai, is set to open on October 21.

Standing at over 250m high, Ain Dubai represents another addition to Dubai Holding's entertainment portfolio and supports Dubai's long-term vision to strengthen its global position as a key tourism hub.

From dining in the sky and exclusive celebration packages to bespoke corporate and event offerings, Ain Dubai brings over 19 customisable experiences available both day and night.

Offering views of Dubai's iconic landmarks from indoor, air-conditioned cabins and a huge range of entertainment, the experiences are split into three main categories: observation cabins, social cabins and private cabins, with experiences starting with one rotation of approximately 38 minutes, up to two rotations of approximately 76 minutes.

The observation cabins provide the perfect platform for 360-degree views of Dubai, while the social cabins feature beverage-inclusive packages. Visitors can also step into a premium cabin for the VIP treatment or get the best social vibes at the Sky Bar cabins.

Meanwhile, the private cabins provide full exclusivity, with celebration packages available for birthdays, engagements, weddings, business functions, and more. The private cabins can also be customised to cater for all sorts of events, from intimate celebrations to cultural festivities.
